

Lyrics

You're like a dream,

In my eyes, I see you very clearly.

See your look – each subtle change of your face in my mind...

I hear you speak,

And it seems your voice will fill my body

With a flow and with a peace I will know you are here.

And now I realize our love is deep and wise

I've never known this love before.

If you should die before me, my life will carry on...

I will be sad, but I'll be more in my life, loving you
